this book uses the insights of cognitive linguistics to argue for the possibility of differentiated consensus between separated churches the joint declaration on the doctrine of justification signed by the lutheran world federation and the roman catholic church in 1999 represents the high water mark of the twentieth century ecumenical movement it declares that the sixteenth century condemnations related to justification do not condemn the teachings of the partner church some critics reject the agreement arguing that a consensus that is differentiated is not actually a consensus in this book jakob karl rinderknecht shows that mapping the cognitive blends that structure meaning can reveal underlying agreement within apparent theological contradictions he traces lutheran and catholic positions on sin in the baptized especially the lutheran simul iustus et peccator and the catholic insistence that concupiscence in the baptized is not sin he demonstrates that the jddj reconciles these positions and therefore that a truly differentiated consensus is possible when many christian congregations are asking how can we draw new members into our midst the authors reframe the question how can congregations make new disciples and deepen the faith of long time christians rediscovery of the early church catechumenate provides a means to form new disciples in today s culture inspiring case studies of four congregations emphasize the contextual flexibility of adult faith formation interviews with catechumenal leaders and participants in adult faith formation reveal how a catechumenate that is central to congregational life can energize and orient the people of god toward the mission of god opening windows into congregational life especially at worship those who had journeyed through the adult faith formation process describe their experiences and the profound changes that took place in them adult faith formation is a journey not a program of belonging believing and behaving that draws people into christ s orbit for life as one participant said for the first time i understood what it meant to be a christian through the adult catechumenate she heard the voice of christ calling her to new life and a rich baptismal identity drawing on unpublished documents and archival materials quill presents a historical survey of the modern liturgical movement with a detailed analysis of its theological and practical impact on 20th century american lutheranism quill explores the lutheran debate which revolves around the concept of a eucharistic prayer in his liturgical reforms luther rejected the eucharistic prayer as found in the canon of the mass quill demonstrates that it is possible to create a eucharistic prayer which complements lutheran eucharistic theology since american lutheran liturgies and hymnals will soon undergo revision the issues addressed will contribute to the anticipated debates and appeal to pastors church musicians seminary students and students of liturgy
